JIM HART TALKS OF FOUL STRIKE

Chicago Magnate Criticises Action of Americans.

Rule Does Not Hurt the Batting Average of Any Free

"If the American League is looking for a chance to get out from under the national agreement, it can do it by means of the foul strike rule just as well as for any other reason."

James A. Hart in discussing the attitude of the American League in adopting a resolution opposing the foul strike rule at its recent meeting. Hart said:

"President Harry Pulliam states the that the action of the American League tional agreement should it drop the foul strike rule without the consent of the National League. The foul strike rule needs no defense. It is no longer an experiment, and the public has accepted it and is satisfied with it. The opposition to the rule comes from Cleveland in the American League, because some of the officials there think that it handicaps Lajole somewhat in his batting perhaps."

Unit for Rentention.

The umpires of the country are almost unit for the retention of the foul strike rule. Joe Cantillon, who is now the manager of the Milwaukee American Association team, but who has been an umpire in both the American and National Leagues, is outspoken in his advocacy of the law. He said yester-the rules committee to turn down the rule now. Under the old rule such men as Billy Keeler, Jones, McGraw and forty others that could be named could foul off any good ball that was over the plate and then walk. There is nothing to the argument that the rule hurts the batting averages. Lajole won the honors in the American League last summer, just as he did the year before, but with not quite as high an average, but then he had been sick a long time in the spring, and that could have caused the slump as well as anything.

"It didn't hurt Delehant; 's batting.

and it does not hurt the batting of any free hitter. A batter makes his averages off the hits that he makes and not off the fouls that are made. The foul strike rule were trike rule was a necessity and a de-

The crowd began to arrive early, but it was 4 o'clock when the principals in the first preliminary put in an appearance. The match was to have been between Jim Janey, of Washington, and a big black fellow named "Snowball," of Baltimore. Janey, it appears, learned the bouts were to be stopped, and refused to fight. In his place substituted a Baltimore negro named Watts. Four blows were struck. Snowball hit Watts twice, and each time Watts hit the floor, the second time to

When the next preliminary was about to begin, a short, stocky man climbed into the ring. "I'm the sheriff of Prince George county, gentlemen, and I can't let this fight take place," said he. The spectators protested, but the re-en-forcement of three deputies showed them the sheriff meant business.

A representative of the club then took he floor and announced the fights would be discontinued, but that he could not refund the price of admission, $2. to each one present, as he had passed in many of them free, and would find himself much out of pocket. He com-promised with the spectators by giving each a ticket and promising to pull off promised with the spectators by giving each a ticket and promising to pull off the bout in a few days in the vicinity of Washington. Then Stone started in to win with stiff jabs to the face and hard rights to the body, and he weakened Daly. In the twelfth round Daly was very tired, but after that he braced up, and the finish was sensational, both boxing furiously at the gong. FIGHT A FAST DRAW

BALTIMORE, Md., Dec. 26.-Joe Tipman, of Baltimore, and "Kid" Williams, of Philadelphia, fought a fifteen-round draw yesterday before the Eureka Athletic Club. The match was a gruelling one, and not for moons have the patrons of the sport seen a mill like it here.

The fight demonstrated that Tipman, who until a few years ago was in pre-liminary bouts, is fast mastering the art, and he put up a rattling good bout. The decision given by Referee Fred Swigert did not meet the approval of the majority of spectators, and it did seem as if he gave the local boy a shade the worst of it.
